BI-WEEKLY BENEFIT PLAN

Pay off your mortgage early.

Our Bi-Weekly Benefit Plan provides life insurance for you and your partner while also giving you the option to pay off your mortgage a few years early. Worry less and enjoy your new home more.

Our Bi-Weekly Benefit Plan provides:

Income Tax-Free* Death Benefit

This plan provides coverage for one or two people. It has an income tax-free death benefit, which could help your loved ones pay your mortgage if something happens to you.

Cash Value

Universal Life Insurance has a cash value, which can grow over time if you pay enough in premiums. Eventually, you can use the cash value to pay off your mortgage early or to cover unexpected expenses.

Simple Payments

We combine your mortgage and life insurance for simplicity. You pay half of the amount bi-weekly instead of the full amount monthly to help cover your mortgage and life insurance.

Interest Savings

Paying off your mortgage early using the cash value of your life insurance may save you thousands of dollars in interest payments. In most cases, your life insurance coverage would end if you choose to do this.

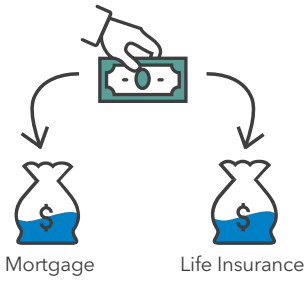
How the Bi-Weekly Benefit Plan works:

Make Bi-Weekly Payments

You make a half mortgage payment every two weeks. BetterLife drafts the payments from your bank account and pays your monthly mortgage for you. By paying this way, you'll make two extra half payments per year, which fund your life insurance policy.



Build Cash Value

Over many years, the cash value of your life insurance policy increases if you pay enough in premiums. If unexpected expenses arise, you can use the cash value of your plan as an emergency fund. Along the way, you'll have the protection of life insurance for you and your partner.

Pay Off Mortgage Early

The cash value may be enough to pay off the remainder of your mortgage a few years early if you haven't used it for other purposes and you have paid enough in premiums. Paying off your mortgage early can save you thousands of dollars in interest.
